Description

This Art Deco piece stands out for its rosewood with deep, warm grain, combined with the elegance of the geometric lines typical of the period. The central section features a display case with a mirrored back that amplifies the light and adds depth to the piece, while two glass shelves provide a prominent display for decorative objects or collectibles. Below this display case, three spacious drawers are perfectly aligned, each fitted with original chrome handles that add a touch of modernity characteristic of the Art Deco style. On either side, two large side doors open to reveal generous storage spaces, each equipped with two adjustable shelves on rails, offering ideal flexibility for organizing dishes, linens, or bulky items. The locks are fully functional. The piece is crowned by a wide breccia marble top,
