

Bronze And Crystal Ceiling Light

Description

Bronze and Crystal Ceiling Light with six E27 sockets, in perfect working order. This sumptuous ceiling light combines classic elegance with charming details, perfect for enhancing prestigious and formal spaces. The design centers around a main circular structure in gilded bronze, embellished with artistic detailing and reflective crystals. The upper section features a wide circular band of gilded metal with a patinated finish. This crown is entirely decorated with floral motifs and scrolls in finely chiseled relief. Above the cast metal band sits a crown of transparent glass elements shaped like leaves or stylized shells. These elements fan outwards with a ribbed texture that captures and diffuses light. The lower half of the chandelier consists of a dense arrangement of pendants made of clear, faceted crystal: the upper row is formed by elongated rectangular prisms tapering to a point, interspersed with small octagonal beads. The central section curves inward with descending rows of crystal octagons, creating a closed basket-like structure. The base ends with another pointed tip and a sphere. The light from the bulb diffuses through the dense weave of crystals, creating a sparkling effect with multicolored and prismatic reflections (clearly visible where the light is reflected). The ceiling mount is complemented by a cast gold rosette and three glass elements. Italy, circa 1960. The ceiling light's electrical components have been completely refurbished, and the internal chrome parts have been polished.
