A beautiful neoclassical marble obelisk resting on four small bronze ball-shaped bases. 32.5 cm in total height. A rare antique piece, entirely handcrafted from a very beautiful variety of brown/yellow marble featuring numerous inclusions. Throughout the "Grand Tour" period, many artifacts were reworked from fragments of rare, ancient marble; this obelisk clearly belongs to this category of objects, most often produced in Rome and its surroundings by specialized workshops. In very good condition with a beautiful antique patina. Italian work dating from the late 18th century.
