Description

Georges Boisgontier - Sculptural bronze and glass coffee table. A rare piece signed by Georges Boisgontier, a French sculptor who collaborated with Arman. This coffee table is distinguished by a unique composition: two columns formed of four bronze elements featuring a "broken" or fragmented aesthetic, alongside two cylindrical pillars, all supporting a thick glass top. Blurring the line between sculpture and furniture, this creation perfectly exemplifies French design from the 1970s and 1980s, where raw material engages in a dialogue with the transparency of glass. Signed piece. Provenance: private collection, La Croisette, Cannes.
