Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Bronze

Description

A vintage and elegant pair of gilded and silvered bronze candlesticks, adorned with cut-glass pendants, made during the Restoration period, circa 1820-1830. The cylindrical shaft, alternating between gilded and silvered bronze, is embellished with an applied decoration of intertwined ribbons and neoclassical-inspired foliage. A delicate wreath of finely chiseled roses supports a rich arrangement of cut-glass crystal pendants. The piece perfectly illustrates the refinement of the Restoration period, when the legacy of the Empire style gradually gave way to a more naturalistic and romantic decorative style. Height: 23.5 cm In very good condition.
