Description

Important oil on canvas by the French artist Jean-Pierre Viot, dated 1995 on the back. This abstract composition perfectly illustrates the artist's visual exploration of geometry, the balance of lines, and the expressive power of color. The work is built around a powerful red background, crisscrossed by a network of black lines accented with a fine yellow outline. The arrangement of diagonals and angular shapes creates a dynamic visual tension, while maintaining a remarkable sense of balance. The simplicity of the composition and the precision of its execution lend the work a timeless elegance. The contrast between the depth of the black, the brilliance of the red, and the delicacy of the yellow highlights creates a particularly strong decorative presence. This painting fits equally
