Description

This silk belt accessory (obijime) features a dynamic, graphic design inspired by traditional Japanese wave motifs (Seigaiha or stylized marine motifs). The piece combines structural simplicity with refined ornamental details. Iconographic and Technical Analysis
The Motif: The ornamented section features a complex interplay of stylized waves rendered in white reserve, outlined with gold pigments, creating a striking contrast against a textured background with gradations of gray, blue, and beige.
Technique: The execution of the motif demonstrates great mastery of dyeing and metallic leaf highlights, typical of ceremonial accessories.
Structure: The sash alternates between a richly decorated central section and long panels of plain black silk, allowing for a
