

---

Gucci - Sac Gucci Boston Flora Joy - Toile Imprimée Et Cuir - Italy

1 800 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Leather

Length : 34 cm

Height : 22 cm

Description

Gucci - "Flora Joy" Boston Bag - Printed Canvas and Leather - Italy An elegant Flora Joy Boston bag by Gucci, the perfect blend of the Florentine house's heritage and contemporary elegance. Crafted from canvas printed with the famous Flora pattern, it is enhanced by taupe leather trim and silver hardware, offering a refined contrast that highlights the delicacy of the floral design. The iconic Flora print dates back to 1966, when Rodolfo Gucci commissioned illustrator Vittorio Accornero to create an exceptional scarf for Princess Grace Kelly. Composed of dozens of finely drawn flowers, plants, and insects, this motif quickly became one of the hallmarks of the House of Gucci. Reinterpreted across various collections, particularly under the artistic direction of Frida

Dealer

Antiquités Dubouchage

Generalist

Tel : 0614100067

Mobile : 0612094302

1 rue Rancher

Nice 06000

Giannini, the Flora motif continues to embody the timeless elegance and refinement of Italian leather goods. The Boston model charms with its generous size, double handles, and spacious interior--perfect for everyday use while maintaining a sophisticated silhouette. This bag is in near-new condition, with vibrant canvas, remarkably well-preserved leather, and an impeccable interior. Sold with its Gucci booklet. An elegant piece that has become a classic of Italian luxury leather goods.