Portable Silver-plated Bronze Hot Water Bottle Lamp - Usb-rechargeable Candle Nightlight - 20th Cen

285 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Silver metal

Height : 34cm

Description

A charming Louis XVI-style silver-plated bronze hot water bottle lamp, reimagined with a decidedly practical and decorative flair. This elegant piece features a circular base accented with a row of beads, a side carrying handle, and a delicate, removable molded glass shade. It is topped with a matte black lampshade accented with fine silver fillets that beautifully highlight the soft light cast by the candle. The lamp stands 34 cm tall. To preserve the original spirit of these portable lamps--designed to accompany their owners through the various rooms of the home--we have chosen to equip it with a USB-rechargeable candle. This solution allows you to rediscover the object's portable and intimate character while enjoying the convenience of modern lighting. Traditional 220-volt wiring is still available upon request. The silver plating shows some slight signs of wear consistent with the piece's age, which fully contribute to its charm and authenticity. The lamp is in very good condition and makes a lovely ambient nightlight, ideal for a console table, bookshelf, or nightstand. Dimensions: Height: 34 cm
