

Large Glazed Stoneware Vase With Handles - Les Potiers d'Accolay

350 EUR

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Sandstone

Height : 45

Description

Large glazed stoneware vase with handles - Les Potiers d'Accolay - 1950s-1960s A significant glazed stoneware vase by Les Potiers d'Accolay, an iconic manufacturer of postwar French ceramics. This piece is distinguished by its elegant, globular body resting on a small foot, its long, flared neck accented with moldings, and its two wide side handles, in a style inspired by ancient forms reinterpreted through 1950s design. It is coated with a superb golden-brown glaze with caramel and amber highlights, characteristic of Accolay's productions from this period. The quality of the glaze and the generous proportions give it a strong decorative presence. The original label "Les Potiers d'Accolay - Made in France" is still present on the neck. The underside bears an old collector's

Dealer

Tino antiquites

Mobilier

Mobile : 0763127955

11 rue de bel air à l'huis laurent

Dun les Places 58230

inscription. A very beautiful decorative piece that can hold large floral arrangements or be displayed on its own. Condition: Very good overall condition. A few very slight signs of wear and tiny, isolated chips in the glaze visible on the neck, which do not affect the appearance. No cracks or restoration. Dimensions: Height: 45 cm Maximum diameter: 28 cm Period: Circa 1955-1965. A large decorative piece representative of the work of the Potiers d'Accolay, sought after for the quality of its design and glaze.