Description

Opal perspex ceiling light, model 199-b, designed by Giuseppe Ostuni for O-Luce. This lamp is a distinctive example of 1950s and 1960s Italian design, featuring clean lines and a pared-down aesthetic that fits perfectly into modern, minimalist settings. The opal perspex material diffuses light evenly, creating a warm, welcoming atmosphere. O-Luce, renowned for its quality craftsmanship and innovation in lighting, created this ceiling light with meticulous attention to detail and functionality. Ideal for residential or public spaces, Ostuni's work stands out for its ability to combine form and function, lending a touch of timeless elegance to any setting. The lamp is in good condition, with minor signs of wear. We try to present the actual condition of the lamps as accurately as possible with the photos. If
