Description

A set of ceramic plates decorated with enamel on a glossy black background, inspired by Attic red-figure pottery, in the neoclassical and "Greek-style" tradition. Each plate features a different figurative scene in the center, drawn from the mythological and Greco-Roman everyday life repertoire: draped figures in conversation, a horseman, a winged figure, a satyr or winged demon riding a goat, scenes of courtship and convivial life. The rim of each plate is decorated with different classical ornamental motifs--meander (Greek key), ivy leaves, scallops, ovules, and radial patterns--creating an effect of great variety while maintaining the stylistic unity of the collection.
