Description

Table lamp made of chrome-plated steel and Murano blown glass by Doria Leuchten, 1970. It captivates with its minimalist geometric lines and its lampshade featuring orange and black graphic patterns, inspired by the pop aesthetic of the 1970s. Its real standout feature is its independent lighting system, which allows for several different lighting moods. 3 lighting settings: lampshade lighting only, glass base lighting only, simultaneous top and bottom lighting. Switch to select the different settings. Electrical functionality verified. In very good condition. The glass is free of chips or cracks. This lamp emits a warm light and particularly highlights the transparency of the opaline glass when the base is illuminated. It will naturally fit into a contemporary, vintage,
