Description

Unique and elegant still life paintings by Fosco Pavi (1910-2007), a renowned Florentine painter who produced a renowned series of still lifes in the 1970s. Of the two paintings, the first stands out for its slightly larger dimensions and is an oil on canvas, housed in a carved wooden frame with a white fabric mat and covered with glass. The painting depicts fruit, including melons, peaches, and plums, a cabbage, and a crystal vase with flowers, arranged on a board. The artist's signature and the date, 1974, are also present at the bottom left. The second still life is depicted in oil on a panel, housed in a carved wooden frame (with minor defects), with a white fabric mat and covered with glass. Above a kitchen table with a tablecloth, there are apples, oranges, tomatoes, and a bird. Behind, between two copper pans, is a
