

19th-century Painted Oak Country Georgian House Facade Box

2 100 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Painted wood

Width : 56.5

Height : 25.5

Depth : 24

Description

Charming 19th-Century Painted Oak Country House Box or Chest A delightful piece of English folk art, this 19th-century country oak chest is beautifully hand-painted to resemble the façade of a Georgian manor house. The exterior features neoclassical architectural details and Greco-Roman motifs, all finished in a wonderfully weathered patina that evokes the authentic aesthetic of an English provincial farmhouse. Crafted circa 1840, the box retains its original painted decoration and antique paper lining on the inside. The hinged top opens to reveal practical storage space, and a brass handle adds both functionality and charm. Versatile in use, this characterful piece can serve as a small chest or storage box or as a decorative display piece in a country, rustic, or traditional interior

Dealer

Anthony Short Antiques

18C & 19C Fine Period Antiques, Decorative Furniture & Works of Art

Tel : 00 44 7595603348

Mobile : 00 44 7595603348

Market Square

Petworth GU28 0AH

Full of personality and period charm, this original 19th-century Georgian house box is a highly decorative and evocative addition to any home or collection.