1 200 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Très bon état

Material : Walnut

Description

A magnificent bookcase made of solid walnut, characterized by an elegant Renaissance-style design and richly carved decoration. The structure is punctuated by columns carved with anthropomorphic figures and plant motifs, surmounted by a refined dentilled cornice that lends grandeur and harmony to the whole. The bookcase consists of three open sections, ideal for displaying books, art objects, or collections. The lower section features three spacious drawers, embellished with finely carved wooden handles. This piece stands out for its excellent craftsmanship, the warm hue of the walnut, and the richness of its carvings, making it perfect for furnishing professional offices, libraries, living rooms, or reception areas.
