

Louis XV-style Display Cabinet With Marquetry Decoration, 19th Century

4 400 EUR

Period : 19th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Wood marquetry

Width : 86

Height : 145

Depth : 40

Description

A curved Louis XV-style display cabinet made of rosewood, amaranth, and satinwood veneers, decorated with a diamond-patterned frieze, marquetry depicting bouquets of tied flowers, and vases filled with flowers. Satiné is an exotic wood with a yellow background and red or yellow-gray and green-gray veins, used in cabinetmaking and marquetry. Once polished, it takes on a satin-like sheen, hence the name "satiné." Amaranth and rosewood are tropical woods that were widely used in the 18th century for marquetry, allowing for the creation of shimmering compositions...
Read more Condition Report: In very good overall condition, with the marquetry in very good condition. The display cabinet retains its two original keys. The bronze has a few oxidation spots, which are barely visible. The drawer lock

Dealer

Galerie Atena

Decorative Arts and Furniture

Mobile : 06 17 08 51 58

Château de Peyraud, 277 allée du Château de Peyraud, 07340,
Peyraud / Galerie sur RDV au 8 rue de Miromesnil à Paris
Paris 75008

does not work. Curtain rods tailored to the shape of the glass panes are included, allowing for the addition of pleated curtains. The leather on the drop-down panel, currently pistachio green, can be replaced. LEARN MORE