Description

This elegant pair of French porcelain vases was produced by Edmé Samson & Cie, Paris, during the Napoleon III period. Inspired by the finest eighteenth-century Sèvres designs, they combine a luminous Bleu Céleste ground with refined Rococo gilding and beautifully executed hand painting.
Each vase features shaped reserves decorated with charming scenes of winged putti among clouds after François Boucher. The harmonious balance between the brilliant blue ground, delicate polychrome decoration and rich gilding gives the pair a timeless decorative appeal. Both vases retain the characteristic underglaze cobalt-blue Sèvres-style interlaced L's pseudomark incorporating Samson's distinctive letter S. Founded in Paris in 1845, Edmé Samson
