Description

Louis XV-Period Lacquered Wood Bench, circa 1750
Charming Louis XV-Period Lacquered and Carved Wood Bench, Resting on Curved Legs. This lacquered wooden bench, molded and carved, rectangular in shape with soft, rounded corners, is upholstered in a lovely fabric in celadon blue tones with a floral pattern, finished with upholstery tacks. Its ornate molding is richly carved with floral and foliage motifs. It rests on six curved legs. Good seating comfort. Good stability. A beautifully crafted piece of furniture with understated and refined lines. This console table combines practical utility--it can serve as a coffee table, bench, footrest, end table, or occasional seat--while also making a stunning visual statement with its harmonious and delicate curves. It will easily complement your decor.
