Description

Tapestry depicting a lively green landscape with, in the center, a dog playing with a bird on a branch. Another bird is perched on a higher branch, and a cat (?) watches it from a nearby branch. In the background, a castle or town with several buildings can be seen. The border consists of garlands of flowers. The bottom border is missing. In good overall condition, though with visible wear due to its age. An 18th-century piece from the Aubusson region.
