Description

Rare glazed lava tile coffee table dating from the 1950s. This mid-century lava tile coffee table, made in Malaysia, Indonesia, or Thailand?, is a one-of-a-kind piece. Beautifully crafted with a black metal base, the rectangular table features an enameled surface in a vibrant abstract design, giving the piece a unique and striking appearance. One can make out a large bird--the "hornbill"--a stringed instrument, the "gambus", as well as a tree, perhaps the "Sepilok," the oldest tree in Sabah, Borneo, Malaysia.
