Description

An elegant devotional image of Genoese craftsmanship, crafted from embossed and chased silver at the end of the 18th century. The composition depicts the Immaculate Virgin, surrounded by a halo and set within an elegant architectural frame that enhances her presence with great decorative balance. The work is set within a fine carved wooden frame gilded with pure gold leaf, crafted between the late 18th century and the early 19th century. The frame, characterized by a rich motif of stylized leaves and a refined inner band of beading, attests to the high quality of the carving and gilding, which remains well-preserved to this day and is of remarkable aesthetic appeal. The combination of the burnished silver of the sacred figure and the brilliance of the gilding creates a contrast of great
