Description

A splendid pair of large damask silk curtains in a delicate sky blue, whose luminous sheen highlights an elegant woven design featuring ribbon-adorned medallions, wreaths of foliage, and vases of flowers, in the purest Louis XVI style. The design, of great finesse, evokes the precious silks that adorned aristocratic residences in the late 18th century and recalls the refined world of Marie Antoinette, where light, airy colors were paired with rich fabrics. Both panels are accented with an elegant, matching fringed braid that adds a particularly polished finish. They are fully lined with a light-colored fabric that ensures a beautiful drape and excellent hold. This pair will naturally find its place in a classic residence, a castle, a mansion, or a contemporary interior seeking a touch of timeless
