Description

17th-century oil on copper depicting Christ Salvator Mundi in its original frame. Christ is depicted in a half-length portrait, emerging from the clouds, wearing a red tunic covered by a dark cloak. His right hand is raised in a traditional gesture of blessing, while his left hand rests on a globe surmounted by a cross, a symbol of his sovereignty over the world. A finely executed, radiant halo emphasizes the sacred nature of the depiction. At the bottom is a partially legible Latin inscription: "EGO SUM LUX MUNDI" ("I am the light of the world"), a reference to the Gospel according to Saint John (Jn 8:12). Note: there are small areas of loss in the paint layer. Shipping within France: 15EUR Shipping to Europe (excluding the UK): 25EUR Shipping to any other destination: request a quote
