Description

An elegant Chinese potiche vase with a hand-painted porcelain lid, made in the second half of the 20th century. The vase features rich polychrome decoration depicting figures and children in a traditional Chinese landscape with trees, rocks, and floral motifs. The turquoise-glazed base and the ornamental band along the neck and base evoke the style of the famous Chinese "Green Family" porcelain, reinterpreted in 20th-century productions intended for the European market. Complete with its original lid featuring a knob handle, it stands out for its balanced proportions and the vibrancy of its glazes, making it a delightful decorative piece suitable for both classic and contemporary settings. Dimensions Height: 32 cm Condition Good overall condition, with slight signs of aging
