Description

Elegant Chinese potiche vase with a hand-painted porcelain lid, made in the first half of the 20th century. The surface is decorated with a refined scene depicting ladies and children engaged in traditional court activities, set against a landscape featuring trees, architectural elements, and ornamental motifs. The decorative band along the neck and base, combined with the polychrome glazes, evokes the style of the famous Chinese "Green Family" porcelain, reinterpreted in 20th-century Chinese productions. Complete with its original lid featuring a knob handle. Its harmonious proportions and the quality of its decoration make it an elegant decorative piece, ideal both for a collection of Oriental porcelain and for classic and contemporary interiors.
