Description

A slightly deep, round dish...Made of terracotta...With glazes ranging from blue to gray...Featuring terracotta leafwork...With impressions designed to look like scales...!!With carvings in the clay...Shaped by hand before firing...In perfect condition...Just two tiny chips on the rim...From firing and use...The lines that might look like cracks are actually the pieces that were glued together to form the dish...This isn't a wheel-thrown terracotta dish...To me, it's from JAPAN...Or very similar...From the 1930s...An imperfect circle...Quite deep...!An astonishing object...Resembling a snake or dragon's skin...Weight... 1 kilo 183 gr
