Description

This elegant French Napoleon III armchair, dating from the second half of the 19th century, combines generous proportions with timeless decorative appeal. Raised on turned ebonized wood legs fitted with brass cup castors, it reflects the refined comfort and practicality that characterized French seating during the Napoleon III period. The chair has been professionally reupholstered in an attractive blue and ivory Toile de Jouy fabric, featuring traditional pastoral scenes inspired by 18th-century French engravings. The detailed textile beautifully complements the historical character of the chair while giving it a fresh and sophisticated appearance suitable for both classic and contemporary interiors. Its wide, welcoming seat, softly scrolling arms, and enveloping back provide exceptional comfort, making it equally suitable as a library chair, bedroom accent, reading chair, or elegant living room seating. The tailored skirt conceals the frame while emphasizing the graceful silhouette, and the brass castors allow the chair to be moved with ease. Napoleon III furniture is admired for blending elegance with everyday comfort, and this armchair is a fine example of that philosophy. The combination of its classic French lines, quality craftsmanship, and striking Toile de Jouy upholstery creates a decorative piece that is both functional and highly versatile. Whether placed in a country house, a Parisian apartment, or a more contemporary setting, it offers warmth, charm, and unmistakable French character. The chair is presented in very good condition, with sturdy construction and clean upholstery, ready for immediate use. Dimensions: H 76 cm × W 77 cm × D 72 cm × Seat H. 38 cm
