Description

Le Sauzet (20th century) Still Life with Fruit on a Tablecloth Oil on canvas, signed "Le Sauzet" at the bottom center. Dimensions: 35 x 27 cm (as seen) -- 47.5 x 39.5 cm with frame. Very good condition This still life composition features apples and pears arranged on a plate, set on a white tablecloth with bluish hues placed on a red table. The brushwork is broad and impasto, the colors bold and contrasting: deep reds, tart greens, and luminous blues. The work reflects a spirit akin to Post-Impressionist explorations of volume and color, with a style that at times evokes Cézanne's approach to rendering fruit or Renoir's warmth in skin tones--though this is by no means imitation: the artist's hand remains personal and confident. as "Le Sauzet." The painting is therefore notable above all for its own pictorial qualities. Interesting detail: the reverse side of the canvas bears a sketch of a landscape, likely an earlier study or a reused canvas--a lovely glimpse into the artist's work, rendered in pastel colors. Frame: a modern frame with a wide, flat molding in dark wood that beautifully highlights the work's vivid colors. Condition: very good condition.
