Description

Napoleon III-era console display cabinet in mahogany, gilded bronze, and white marble. A charming Napoleon III-era console display cabinet, crafted from flamed mahogany and topped with an elegant slab of veined white marble. This refined piece stands out for the richness of its flamed wood, its finely chiseled gilt bronze details, and its curved lines characteristic of the second half of the 19th century. The front features two glass-paned doors framed by gilded bronze moldings with flowing designs. The sides are also glazed, providing ample light inside and allowing for an elegant display of porcelain, glassware, objets d'art, or collections. The interior is lined with an antique pink damask fabric and features two glass shelves. The uprights are adorned with bronze
