Description

Large mahogany sideboard with four doors - 19th century A substantial mahogany sideboard with four doors. Crafted during the first half of the 19th century, this piece captivates with its simple and elegant lines, highlighted by the wood's magnificent grain and the rounded corners characteristic of this period. The front is organized around two central doors flanked by two side panels, offering ample storage space. The molded panels, gently rounded posts, and the top with rounded corners give the piece a balanced and refined silhouette. The interior features shelving, providing ample storage for tableware, linens, or collectibles. The piece has retained its beautiful original patina and is in excellent condition, with slight signs of age that attest to its authenticity. With its generous dimensions and
