Description

A superb and rare pair of Louis XIV candlesticks, made of gilded bronze, they feature a rich "à la Bérain" decoration. The circular, ogee-shaped base features a frieze of stylized shells set within geometric motifs. An Amati-style background is surmounted by a frieze of lambrequins. The shaft is decorated with crossed ribbons, serrated fluting, and acanthus foliage. A rarity for candlesticks of this period is the presence of the original openwork, octagonal-shaped candle holders. The presence of engraved marks identifying each candlestick with its corresponding candlestick holder confirms this: "TT" for one, and "T" for the other. In good condition for its age; however, the following should be noted: - Wear and patina from age, - restoration under one of the bases, - a nut has
