An exceptional and sumptuous centerpiece (fruit bowl), made in France at the end of the 19th century by the prestigious Baccarat factory. This piece is distinguished by the high level of craftsmanship in its cutting and the quality of its decoration. The composition is organized into three superb sections: The Upper Bowl: A large circular crystal bowl richly hand-cut with geometric motifs, featuring a lobed and undulating upper rim that creates magnificent reflections in the light. The Central Base: The bowl is supported by a charming chiseled and gilded bronze figure depicting a putto (cherub) in the round, captured in a dynamic pose with his arms raised. The Base: The piece rests on a luxurious, undulating quadrangular base made of diamond-point-cut crystal, topped by four turned
