Description

Created in the late 1950s, the Borodine goblet is one of Val Saint Lambert's most iconic designs. Its double-layered crystal, most often cobalt blue or emerald green, is enhanced by a frieze gilded with fine gold, known as the "Dance of Flora," which draws its inspiration from classical mythology. The piece is in perfect condition, having come from a careful first owner; it has never been removed from the display case in which it was exhibited. The Val Saint Lambert label was worn, so we removed it during cleaning (see photo) H 17.5 cm Diameter 23.5 cm
