

PROANTIC
LE PLUS BEAU CATALOGUE D'ANTIQUITES

Pair Of 18th-century Directoire-style Bookcases

1 400 EUR

Period : 18th century

Condition : Bon état

Material : Solid wood

Description

Pair of Directoire-style bookcases in pine - 18th century
Rare pair of Directoire-style bookcases in solid pine, dating from the late 18th century. These two pieces feature the simple and elegant lines characteristic of the Directoire period, with a molded cornice, original small-paned glass doors, and a beautiful antique patina. One of the bookcases features a column of seven side drawers, providing particularly practical storage, while the other has two drawers along the base. The lower sections close with two paneled doors, revealing ample storage space. The interiors are lined with numerous shelves. The backs are made of wide antique planks, and the small-paned glass is period-correct. The set is in excellent condition, with a warm and authentic patina. This pair, as decorative as it is functional,

Dealer

Galerie Christophe Elisabeth

Galerie Christophe Elisabeth

Mobile : 06 99 48 80 76

1 domaine de Montrabech

Lézignan-Corbières 11200

will fit perfectly in a library, a cabinet of curiosities, a historic home, or a country house.Period: late 18th century, Directoire.Wood: solid pine.Condition: very good condition, with a beautiful original patina and original panesDimensions: Height 257 cm, width 139 cm, depth 50 cm; the second bookcase, by the same maker: width 139 cm, depth 49 cm.