Description

Large Louis-Philippe-style dining table in solid walnut - 19th century
A beautiful and authentic Louis-Philippe-style dining table in solid walnut, dating from the mid-19th century. It rests on an elegant base with six turned legs, ensuring perfect stability even when fully extended. Its walnut tabletop features superb grain and a warm antique patina, highlighting the quality of the wood. This table is equipped with three extension leaves that slide into a sturdy wooden track system. When fully extended, it reaches 2.50 meters in length, comfortably seating about ten guests. The set is in very good condition, with a fully functional mechanism and a beautiful original patina. A large family table, both elegant and practical, ideal for a home with character. Dimensions: Height: 70.5 cm Width: 110
