Description

Art Deco sculpture of a young woman with a greyhound, carved in régul and onyx, signed R. Miandres, early 20th century. Created by the artist R. Miandres during the Art Deco period (1910-1939) in the early 20th century, this sculpture combines polychrome regul with a base of marble, onyx, and agate. The quintessence of Art Deco, its geometric design is evident in the rectangular base, topped by a regul group depicting a noblewoman accompanied by her greyhound--a symbol of nobility and loyalty--also in a geometric pose. This type of sculpture was typically placed on a chest of drawers or a marble mantelpiece. In very good overall condition; please note a slight chip on the right corner of the base, which is very discreet. This sculpture is signed "R. Miandres" on the right, engraved on
