

Le Verre Français / Charles Schneider - "digitale" Table Lamp - Art Deco, 1925

4 000 EUR

Signature : Le Verre Français / Charles Schneider

Period : 20th century

Condition : Bon état

Diameter : 25

Height : 39

Description

Elegant Art Deco table lamp by Le Verre Français, the celebrated line created by Charles Schneider and associated with the great French decorative glass tradition of the 1920s. This model, known as "Digitale", was produced circa 1925-1927. It is made in layered glass with interlayer powder inclusions, a technique typical of Schneider's production, allowing rich colour effects and subtle depth within the glass. The lamp has a baluster-shaped stem on a circular base with three hot-moulded notches. It is fitted with a blackened wrought-iron mount with three arms supporting a flattened conical shade. The decoration shows stylised red foxglove flowers against a pink marbled ground, with darker contrasting motifs giving the piece a strong Art Deco presence. The lamp is signed "Le Verre

Dealer

Mythika Curio

Antiques, Decorative Arts & Collectible Objects

Mobile : +33751463585

160 rue Saint Maur

Paris 75011

Français" on the base. Le Verre Français pieces are appreciated for their vivid colours, stylised natural motifs and technical glasswork. The "Digitale" model is a beautiful example of the transition from Art Nouveau floral inspiration to the more modern and graphic language of Art Deco.

Details
Maker: Le Verre Français / Charles Schneider
Model: Digitale
Period: circa 1925-1927
Material: layered glass with interlayer powder inclusions, wrought-iron mount
Signature: signed on the base
Height: approx. 39 cm
Diameter: approx. 25 cm
Condition: Good overall condition, with light signs of age and use consistent with an original Art Deco glass lamp. The lamp presents well and the electrification is functional. Please refer carefully to the photographs, as they form part of the description.