Description

Umbertina sideboard crafted from walnut and walnut burl, dating from the early 20th century, an example of refined Italian cabinetmaking. The upper section features two shelves adorned with plant motifs and scrollwork, lending it a timeless elegance. The base features a solid gray marble top, beneath which are a pair of drawers equipped with a central lock. The paneled doors below complete the front, providing both storage space and security for the items kept inside. The curved sides, which also feature a drawer beneath the top and a paneled door, blend perfectly with the overall design. The plinth-style legs provide stability, while the poplar interior adds a touch of structural lightness. This piece is a clear example of the taste and craftsmanship of the era. Product condition: Due to its age and wear, this product
