Description

Carved and gilded wooden mirror, Italy, late 19th century, featuring a molded frame with rope-motif carving that encloses a mercury mirror. The outer frame is openwork and richly carved, featuring a sophisticated arrangement of architectural elements that harmoniously intertwine with foliage, floral motifs, and volutes--typical of the Rocaille style. The cornice, which dominates the composition, houses an additional central mirror, lending the entire structure an extra dimension of depth and reflection. This mirror is a refined example of Italian craftsmanship from that era, skillfully combining functionality and decorative aesthetics. Product condition: Due to its age and wear, this item requires restoration and re-polishing. We strive to present the actual
