Description

A lovely, large Art Deco ball vase with a wrought-iron frame by Daum and Majorelle. This vase is a stunning example of glassmaking craftsmanship, with the glass--still hot--set into a wrought-iron frame. Note the lovely raspberry color and the balanced proportions. The frame features a herringbone pattern typical of the Art Deco period. The piece is double-signed "Daum 'Croix de Lorraine' Nancy France" and "L. Majorelle" on the base. 26 cm in height and diameter, weighing over 4.6 kilos. Clearly identified model, circa 1925. Superb Art Deco vase, with two illustrious signatures!
