Description

A superb, large antique watercolor, likely enhanced with gouache, signed M.H. Vinciguerra), depicting a picturesque street in Andalusia bathed in brilliant Mediterranean light. The artist skillfully captures the warm atmosphere of the villages in southern Spain. The whitewashed facades, flower-filled balconies, and perfectly mastered perspective naturally draw the eye toward the end of the alley. The quality of this work lies above all in its exceptional handling of light. The interplay of shadows and sunlight, enhanced by delicate highlights of gouache, lends the entire composition relief, depth, and remarkable luminosity. This scene exudes a genuine sense of warmth and serenity. The work is presented in its original frame, under its period glass, with its original mounting, attesting to its
