Description

Pair of wrought-iron spurs with star-shaped wheels, Late Gothic style, Western Europe, probably late 15th -16th century. Pair of spurs with curved shanks that are heavily indented along the outer edge, ending in four strap attachments, three of which are engraved with a grid pattern. The square-section shank is sharply angled; wheel holder is engraved on both sides, housing in its slot a large star-shaped wheel with five cut-out prongs, the iron pin being riveted. Beautiful fine-work forging; the technical details should be visible in our photos--including forging, wear, and corrosion--as well as artistic details, engravings, the junction of arm to collar, details of the fasteners, pins, and engravings on wheels. Dimensions: 14 cm x 8.8 cm, height at bend 5 cm. Weight: 200 g for the pair. Very good
