Description

A highly decorative cast-iron stove in the Orientalist style, dating from the early 19th century and adorned with superb openwork panels featuring Gothic and Moorish motifs. Its hexagonal marble top and ornate cast-iron base lend the piece an architectural and exotic appearance. Opening the doors reveals the original brass burner and glass chimney, making this piece a remarkable decorative object. Thanks to its finely openwork panels and elegant proportions, this stove can serve as a side table or as a centerpiece in any interior. It shows signs of wear and use consistent with its age. Please refer to the photographs to assess its condition. Dimensions Height: 70 cm Width: 34 cm Depth: 34 cm
