Description

This elegant pair of French Louis XV period armchairs dates from the 18th-century and beautifully showcases the graceful craftsmanship of the era. Crafted in solid walnut, the chairs feature the distinctive flowing cabriole legs, elegantly scrolled arms, and finely carved details that define authentic Louis XV furniture. Their balanced proportions and refined silhouette make them equally suitable for both traditional and contemporary interiors. The frames display a rich warm patina that has developed naturally over more than two centuries, highlighting the quality of the walnut. The armrests terminate in beautifully carved scrolls, while the shaped backs and generously padded seats provide both comfort and elegance. They retain their decorative brass nail trim and are upholstered in a soft blush pink velvet, offering a sophisticated contrast with the aged walnut. The upholstery shows some signs of wear consistent with age and use, which can be appreciated for its authentic vintage charm or easily renewed to suit a new interior. These armchairs are sturdy, comfortable, and ready to use. Whether placed beside a fireplace, in a living room, bedroom, library, or entrance hall, they bring timeless French elegance and exceptional decorative appeal. Genuine Louis XV seating of this quality remains highly sought after for its graceful lines, craftsmanship, and enduring beauty. Dimensions: H: 115 cm × W: 65 cm × D: 66 cm × SH: 45 cm
