Description

A beautiful seaside landscape by the Northern artist Marius Wrobel, whose works are on display in the museums of Denain and Valenciennes. This artist associated with painters such as Dalí in Spain and focused his work primarily on landscapes of the North. This painting features a very lively composition with shimmering colors, making it a rare piece in the artist's body of work. This painter participated in numerous exhibitions until 2006, when he received the National Assembly Medal. Dimensions with frame: 36 x 46 cm key-back stretcher
