Description

Bronze with a brown patina (some oxidation, signs of handling, micro-scratches) -- made in the 1950s or slightly earlier. No markings, stamps, or inscriptions. Feet support it at the front. This is a reworking and reinterpretation, personal and anonymous, in the style of the famous thinker. It differs from the original: a stockier, more compact muscular build--schematic hands--clenched feet--uniform treatment of the flesh and rock. A more uniform face. This is not a faithful copy; it is a reinterpretation.
