Description

Kabyle saber known as a "flissa" -- Algeria, Kabylie, second half of the 19th century to early 20th century
Hilt covered with chiseled brass plates. Single-edged blade, engraved and damascened with brass. Scabbard with two carved wooden struts held in place by two steel rings. I believe one or two additional rings are missing from the scabbard, though this does not affect its structural integrity. Minor damage to the wood of the scabbard and a few old holes from wood-boring insects. Length: 105.5 cm
Length without sheath: 100 cm
Blade length: 88 cm
Weight: 961 g
Weight without sheath: 792 g
