Description

Portrait of Camille Flammarion, a work created in the late 19th century. Red signature present: Silvestre ST, dated 1891. This work is by an academic painter or portraitist of the French school of the late 19th century. Camille Flammarion (1842-1925), a famous French astronomer and writer. This is an interesting work because it is an intimate portrait rather than the more widely circulated official portrait; at that time, Flammarion typically sported a fuller beard. The frame is period-appropriate, made of blackened wood, and perfectly suited to this work. The condition of the corners needs attention. The work deserves a light cleaning but has no defects or tears. Dimensions with frame: Height: 79 cm, Width: 69 cm. Please feel free to contact us by phone or in writing. Sale subject to
