Description

An elegant Louis XVI-era chest of drawers, crafted from mahogany and mahogany veneer, featuring four drawers arranged in three rows: three side drawers and two large central drawers. The simple and perfectly balanced front is accentuated by an elegant molded frame. The rounded, fluted front posts rest on slender, tapered legs that are also fluted, topped with gilded bronze feet. The piece is topped with a gray/red marble slab in excellent condition. This chest of drawers captivates with the quality of its mahogany, its impeccable finish, and its timeless elegance. Its storage capacity makes it as functional as it is decorative. This piece has been restored and refinished by us, and the bronze fittings have been re-gilded.
